

BIND-P Project

Project Title : A Multi-Centric Randomized Controlled Trial to Assess Effectiveness of the Brief Nursing Intervention for Depression in Pregnancy

i Project Information

Funded by Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR), New Delhi

Start Date
1 October 2018

Project Cost
33 Lakhs

Project status
Completed

i Project Output

Publications
3

Equipment sanctioned
Yes

Enrolled Subject
532

Manpower
5

i Details

Principal Investigator: Dr Ransing Ramdas

Designation : Associate Professor, Dept. of Psychiatry

Email ID : ramdas_ransing123@yahoo.co.in

i Project Summary

A clinical trial to study the effectiveness of psychological intervention by antenatal nurse for depression in pregnancy

Objective : This study was a randomized, multi-center trial comparing the effectiveness of brief Nursing intervention for depression in pregnancy.

Methodology : The study was conducted at four centers in India for 36 months. The pregnant women with mild depression will be assessed for the effectiveness of the intervention.

Results : We are currently analyzing the results and not yet published