S.V.J.C.T. & B. K. L. Walawalkar Rural Medical College & Hospital strongly believes that "common good is more important than individual gain". This philosophy has stood the best of time as it has been successfully taken forward by the trust. We believe that the true and full measure of growth, success and progress lies beyond balance sheets or conventional economic indices. Through social investments, Charity, B.K.L. Walawalkar Hospital addresses the needs of communities residing in the vicinity of its facilities, taking sustainable initiatives in the areas of health, education, environment conservation and community development especially to those residing in rural India.

It is known that the hospital undertakes community health activities to do overall good to the community, with special emphasis on activities for the benefit of the poor and needy sections of the society. Certainly the poor people in this Konkan region, a socio-economically backward region of Maharashtra state will be benefited through these health care initiatives from S.V.J.C.T.

Our organization also works with various institutions or governments to design and implement innovative projects independently or through collaborations between institutions/trust. Keeping this ideology in mind S.V.J.C.T. has now initiated a programme for the development and upliftment of Women in the Konkan region.

S.V.J.C.T. in association with Vatsalya Trust, Mumbai & National Skill Development Corporation has designed courses, which have been specifically created for the career development and rural empowerment. The highlights of these courses are:
